- 2.10.2. Each employment position created by the Society must have an explicit job description prepared by the Executive or by an appropriate officer of the Society and shall be approved by Council.
- 2.10.3. Council shall establish a Personnel Manual pertaining to all aspects of employment by the Society and shall be responsible for approving changes to the manual.
- 2.10.4. The President shall coordinate the contract renewal process for the employees of the Society. Contract negotiations shall be conducted in consultation with the Executive.
- 2.10.5. The President and Vice-President Finance, with at least one additional executive member, shall strike a subcommittee of at least three executive members to convene and conduct performance reviews of all Society salaried employees, in addition to the Grad Club Manager, excluding the Society's Grad Club employees. This subcommittee shall conduct this review annually by the end of March and prior to a contract renewal discussion.

2.11 Conflict of Interest

2.11.1. A conflict of interest arises when any current member of Council, the Society's Executive or Non-Executive officers, committee member, or other elected or appointed position of the Society has or could be seen to have the opportunity to use the authority, knowledge, or influence derived from their position in order to provide personal or financial gain to the individual in question, or a member of the individual's family, or else an agency with which the individual is employed. The following instances could be considered conflicts of interest, though conflicts are not limited to these instances:

- One is involved in both the solicitation and rendering of services or products to the Society, and for which discretionary authority may be exercised at any stage of the commissioning of said services or products.
- One is involved in either the solicitation or rendering of services or products to the Society wherein one stands to make personal financial gains, for instance as a shareholder, contract employee, or investor.
- One is participating in the hiring, contract review, or investigation of an immediate relative, spouse, in-law, step-child, or third-party business partner for the Society.
- One places or has placed the needs or demands of a third party or agency above the stated or acknowledged needs of the Society.
- One is involved as an adjudicator in any of the Society's adjudication processes wherein one is also an appellant, complainant, or defendant, or in which one has provided material evidence.
- An Executive or Non-Executive Officer (excluding Commissioners, Deputy Speaker, CRO, and DCRO) participates outside of an administrative role in a draw, lottery or similar event organized by the Society or its affiliated businesses (e.g. the Grad Club). The same applies to TA Awards, Western Research Forum, all bursary or grant programmes, and similar matters run by the Society. Other instances of Conflict of Interest not listed above, but which are consistent with the spirit of the law, may be considered on an ad hoc basis provided they meet the minimum standard of demonstrable personal or financial benefit to the individual or a member of the individual's family, or else an agency with which the individual is employed.

2.11.1.1. Matters of common interest, referring to instances in which any member of the Society may have equal opportunity to benefit from an arrangement of any type, are as a general rule not considered a Conflict of Interest. That is to say, the interest must be specific to an identifiable individual or exclusive small group (business partnership, family, and the like).

2.11.2. In all instances above, a member of the Society who perceives oneself to be in a Conflict of Interest, may do the following to extricate themselves from the conflict:

2.11.2.1. Declare one's conflict, and

- 2.11.2.1.1. Recuse oneself from all participation, including administrative, in the activity in which one deems oneself to be in conflict, or
- 2.11.2.1.2. If the conflict of interest is such that one can no longer discharge their duties to the Society, one may resign from one's position of authority or influence, provided doing so resolves the conflict in question.
- 2.11.2.2. Pursuant to adopting any of the actions therein but only after the fact does not resolve the conflict, and may still result in sanctions or censure (see Bylaw 2.11.3 below).
- 2.11.3. The procedure for resolving any perceived and either undeclared or unresolved Conflict of Interest is governed by the Conflict of Interest Resolution Policy Document, located in the Society's office and on the Society's website.

A duly constituted entity shall be defined as an organization with a bank account in the name of the organization. Cheques will be made out to these organizations, not to individuals. Organizations are responsible for confirming their status with the Society. For those departments that do not fulfill this criteria, the Society will hold the funds in trust payable upon application to the Society by a duly elected Councillor.

- 2.15.3.12.4. An Alternate Councillor shall count for quorum and toward attendance for the purpose of their departmental grant.
- 2.15.3.13. Business arising at a meeting of Council which is not placed in the Council Package requires a two-thirds affirmative vote to pass.

- 2.15.3.14. All original main motions and amendments must be in writing.
- 2.15.3.15. Minutes shall be taken at all meetings and shall be distributed to all Councillors before the next Council meeting.
- 2.15.3.16. Each department shall receive a grant from the Society every year, based on its size in terms of students and the number of council meetings at which it was represented.
- 2.15.3.16.1. The degree to which a department is said to be "represented" at a council meeting is based on the number of councillors recognized as having been in attendance within the ratified Society Council minutes of that meeting, divided by the total number of councillor positions that department has been allocated.
- 2.15.3.16.1.1. A councillor will be recognized as having been in attendance at a Council meeting for the purposes of the departmental grant if only if the Councillor was present for one and a half hours, or two thirds of said meeting, whichever period of time is shorter.
- 2.15.3.16.2. The formula by which the specific amount of a departmental grant will be determined as follows:
- 2.15.3.16.2.1. The number of students in a department will be multiplied by $3.00 per term.
- 2.15.3.16.2.2. For each of the eleven (11) regularly scheduled Council meetings in a given calendar year, the result of the calculation in 2.15.3.16.2.1. will then be multiplied by that department's total percentage of representation at the Council meeting. This will be the dollar amount of the rebate earned that month.
- 2.15.3.16.2.3. Departments will be granted one attendance bonus, the value of which will be the result of the calculation in 2.15.3.16.2.1. multiplied by the department's average percentage of representation over the eleven (11) regularly scheduled Society Council meetings in that calendar year.
- 2.15.3.16.2.4. The sum of the rebates earned for each of the eleven (11) regularly scheduled Society Council meetings in a given calendar year plus the attendance bonus yields the precise dollar value of the departmental grant cheque that is issued by the Society to that department that year.
- 2.15.3.16.3. A minimum grant amount of $20.00 will be issued to departments that have fewer than 10 graduate students and a 100% attendance rate at Council meetings.
- 2.15.3.16.4. This policy on departmental grant cheques is only to be applied to the eleven (11) regularly scheduled Society Council meetings held during one calendar year.
- 2.15.3.17. The number of students in a department for the purposes of determining councillor representation is the number of Associate and Leave-of-Absence Members divided by 3 (rounded up to the nearest whole number) added to the number of Full Members.

2.15.4 Executive Meeting

- 2.15.4.1. Executive members shall meet at least once a month and may request the attendance of any other person in a non-voting capacity.

2.15.4.2. Notice of the time and place of an Executive meeting must be circulated to all Executive members by the President.

In time-sensitive situations where Council approval is not possible, the Executive shall be empowered to issue statements of endorsement on behalf of the Executive only; such statements must include a disclaimer clearly stating that they come from the Executive and not from the Society as a whole.

2.18 Non-Discrimination and Harassment

- 2.18.1. Members of the Society and its employees are entitled to be free from discrimination and harassment. - 2.18.2. Activities considered to be harassment or discrimination may include, but are not limited to, adverse treatment, inappropriate gestures, remarks intended to intimidate or degrade, and exclusion based on discriminatory grounds.

This may consist in direct discussion between the parties or, failing this, the parties may request the Ombudsperson to act as an informal mediator. (If the Ombudsperson cannot act as the mediator, a request may be made to the Speaker to act in their stead.)
- 2.18.4. If an informal resolution is not successful or possible, a formal complaint may be filed with the Ombudsperson for investigation and resolution as described in the Society's Disciplinary Manual.

In lieu of any "Rationale" text, the announcement of the recall vote shall include the text "The recall of the President of the Society has been initiated by disciplinary measure and not by any petition" followed by the full text of the written determination prompting the disciplinary measure. The announcement shall include the President's response

Chapter 3

Operations Policies

3.1 Conflict of Interest

3.1.1 Governing Bylaws

- 3.1.1.1. The Society of Graduate Students bylaws section 2.11 (Conflict of Interest) shall be used to determine whether or not a Conflict of Interest exists.

3.1.2 Procedure for Resolution

- 3.1.2.1. An individual may recognize one's own conflict and follow the procedure outlined in Bylaw 2.11.2 to resolve a conflict. At any point in the following procedural outlines and policies, a person may acknowledge their own conflict and seek steps to resolve it privately, in accordance with the Bylaws. This should always be encouraged in the interests of saving the Society unnecessary time and energy expended resolving its internal difficulties.
- 3.1.2.2. An individual must first inform the person perceived to be in a Conflict of Interest of their conflict, and must do so clearly, substantively and in writing (electronic media are acceptable). Vague allegations, generalized concerns and innuendo are not substantive claims.
- 3.1.2.3. Failing to resolve the matter privately and discretely may result in an escalation to the conflicted person's supervisor, in whatever capacity they may be supervised: a committee chairperson, a committee's official liaison, the Society's President, or the Society's Speaker (in order of preference, where applicable). Third parties external to the Society are not considered part of any supervisory chain, and may not be employed.
- 3.1.2.4. Failing resolution through a supervisory intervention, the concerned party may do one of two things, depending upon the time sensitivity of the issue (to be determined by the Speaker):
 - 3.1.2.4.1. If the issue is not time-sensitive, the individual may draft a motion for Council and seek resolution in that forum.
 - 3.1.2.4.2. If the issue is of a time-sensitive nature, the individual may seek an ad-hoc tribunal proceeding through the Society's Speaker (see 3.1.3.3, Tribunal Proceedings).
 - 3.1.2.4.3. The only bodies capable of imposing a decision on a person perceived to be in a Conflict of Interest are the Society's Council (2.2.3.1) and the ad-hoc tribunal formed by the Speaker. All other methods of resolution must come in the form of recommendations to the allegedly conflicted individual, and to which, all parties involved must agree.
 - 3.1.2.4.4. At each stage of attempted resolution, five (5) business days must be allowed to respond.

3.1.3 Tribunal Proceedings

- 3.1.3.1. In the event a perceived Conflict of Interest remains unresolved and is of a time-sensitive nature that cannot wait until a Council meeting, the Speaker may call an ad-hoc tribunal to impose a judgement upon the conflict situation in question.
- 3.1.3.2. The ad-hoc tribunal shall be called if the complaint is received in writing (electronic media are acceptable) to the Society's office and addressed to the Speaker.
- 3.1.3.3. A tribunal shall consist of five (5) Society members in good standing: the Speaker (non-voting), the Ombudsperson (non-voting), and three other Society members representing three different faculties. These members shall be selected by the Speaker, and should themselves be free of any reasonable apprehension of bias toward both the complainant and defendant.
- 3.1.3.4. The tribunal shall assemble within seven (7) business days, barring unforeseen circumstances, and shall offer a ruling based on the most complete testimony of the individuals involved. Follow up queries are permitted for clarification, and at all points the Speaker shall provide guidance on the interpretation of the Society's Bylaws to assure that the minimum standards for a Conflict of Interest are met.
- 3.1.3.5. Tribunal decisions must be passed by a majority vote.

3.1.4 Possible Resolutions

- 3.1.4.1. Any person, supervisor, Council, or ad-hoc tribunal may determine that no conflict exists, and thus dismiss the charge. Reasons should be documented as best as possible, with resolutions ready to be provided in the event the matter is escalated.

- 3.5.14.5. For contracts already awarded, the Requisitioner notifies the supplier awarded the bid and if deemed possible and necessary, may be asked to stop or hold the purchase until the review is complete. When appropriate or necessary, legal counsel is consulted.

- 3.5.14.6. Before making a determination on a vendor protest, the Executive, the Speaker, the Ombudsperson, the chair of the Requisitioning Committee, and if necessary legal counsel, shall engage in a consultative process to review the available information and evidence.  - 1.4.2. Prior to receipt of the award, the SOGS accountant should confirm with the School of Postgraduate and Doctoral Studies that the application does accurately reflect the financial situation of the member.

Speaker's Rulings

Speaker's Ruling

Access to Investigation Minutes

Dear SOGS Council, I have received a multi-part question from a member, but as the questions relate to a single issue, I have addressed them with one ruling. I have divided my ruling into five parts:

- The Question
- Preamble
- Ruling (parts 1-4)
- Recommendations
- Relevant Bylaws

1. The Question

- A) Does Bylaw 14 — specifically sections 14.1 and 14.4 (see below) — give a member of the Society to view the minutes of the recent Ad Hoc Investigative Committee (within the restrictions set out in 14.5)?
- B) Were the Non-Disclosure Agreements (NDA) signed by the members of the Investigative Committee and complainants out of order?

2. The Bylaws in Question

14.1 All minutes of Council or the Executive, and, where compiled, of committees shall be available to all interested parties, with the exceptions noted below. 14.4 Confidential minutes may be viewed only by full and associate members of the Society.

3. Preamble

In November 2012, the SOGS Executive received a complaint about the conduct of a member of the Society. In response, an ad hoc committee was struck — under the guidance of the Speaker — to investigate the complaint, determine its validity, and recommend discipline, if appropriate. As SOGS has no procedures in place to deal with such complaints of discipline, the process was guided by the process laid out in Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, 11th Edition (RONR), which stresses confidentiality at all points in the process. To this end, the members of the committee and the individuals who brought forward complaints all signed NDAs.

As the preamble to Bylaw 14 indicates, the Society is committed to allowing open access to information. As such, even confidential minutes of the Society are made available to members to review. In this case, however, we have minutes which are rendered confidential by a legal document. This tension between the principles of Bylaw 14 and the NDAs signed by those involved in the investigation is the core issue here.

4. The Ruling

1. Summary

Because the NDAs signed by those involved in the investigation are legal documents, and because the authority of the law exceeds that of the governing documents of SOGS in any situation in which they conflict (#2 below), I rule that members of the Society do not have a right to view the minutes of the investigative committee, as the NDAs in place create a legal requirement that they not be disseminated. I am not, however, able to say for certain that the NDAs are absolutely binding or advise on their legal status. An answer to the question of the exact legal scope of the NDAs, and conditions under which the information protected by these agreements¹ is a matter of legal opinion which is beyond both the authority and capabilities of the Speaker (#3). As such, I recommend that the President seek advice from SOGS legal counsel on this matter. Further, as I can find no language in the Bylaws which would serve to prohibit the use of a Non-Disclosure Agreement to protect certain sensitive information, and due to the importance of being able to protect the rights of both the accused and complainants during any investigation, I rule that the NDAs signed in this case were not out of order (#4). Finally, as the Bylaws are currently silent on the question of how the Society is to determine the truth of any allegations against its members, or how disciplinary actions are to be determined if required, it is my recommendation that an ad hoc committee be struck to review bylaw 19 and draft a policy for investigations and discipline within SOGS, so that we have a clear guide for how to proceed in the future, should any additional complaints of misconduct arise.

2. Law and Bylaws

Bylaw 14 makes it clear that all members have a prima facie right to view all minutes from Society meetings, including minutes otherwise considered confidential, but it does not follow from this prima facie right that there are no circumstances under which minutes may be off-limits to a member. While our Bylaws are one of the governing documents of the Society which, along with the Constitution and Policy Document, provide the general structure for the operation of the Society, their authority is not absolute. While the Constitution is the highest authority among the Society's governing documents, any legal requirements ? whether federal, provincial, or municipal ? always take precedence over the Society's rules². Thus, if the

¹i.e., the minutes of the committee and details of the investigation

²Cf. RONR (11th ed.), p. 3-4: "[T]he actions of any deliberative body are also subject to applicable procedural rules prescribed by local, state, or national law and would be null and void if in violation of such law."

Constitution/Bylaws make one demand while the law makes another, the Society must always take the course of action prescribed by law. The current case is one in which exactly such a tension appears. The bylaws require that Society members be given access to the minutes, but the NDAs require that they be kept confidential, and not subject to such broad access.

3. Legal Status of the NDAs

The above is written on the assumption that the NDAs create a legal obligation for the Society which prohibits dissemination of the details of the investigation. Should the NDAs create no such obligation, but rather, for example, only an obligation that the minutes not be posted publicly, then there is no tension between the legal requirement created by the NDAs and the rights granted to members under bylaw 14, and all members of the Society would have the right to view these minutes³. Advising on whether or not this is the case is outside the purview of the Speaker, and would require an opinion from legal counsel.

4. Appropriateness of NDAs

While Bylaw 14 allows all members of the Society to view even confidential minutes of meetings, this does not mean that an NDA which has the effect of making minutes inaccessible would thereby be out of order. There currently exists no language in the Bylaws or Constitution which prohibits the use of NDAs to protect sensitive information.⁴ Further, there exist other methods of keeping sensitive proceedings confidential which are used frequently by the Society and are not considered to be out of order or a violation of Bylaw 14, including moving a session in camera. Thus, due to the combination of the lack of language prohibiting their use, and the permissibility of functionally similar mechanisms in Society proceedings leads me to conclude that the use of NDAs in this case was not impermissible. Separate from this question is the question of whether or not having those involved in the investigation sign NDAs was wise, or the best course of action. Certainly there is good reason to protect the identities and reputations of the accused, the complainants and even the committee members in any such investigation and to have a degree of confidentiality in such cases. NDAs are only one method of doing this, however, and the need for privacy must also be balanced against the Society's general commitment to open access to information. How this balance is to be struck, however, is a foundational question, not an interpretive one, and thus beyond the scope of a Speaker's ruling. How to proceed in such situations in the future must be left to Council.

5. Recommendations As mentioned in section III, part 3, the Speaker is unable to comment on the full legal scope of the NDAs. As a result, I recommend that the President discuss these NDAs with legal counsel to determine exactly how they bind the actions of the Society. Further, as mentioned in section II and Section III, part 4, the Society's governing documents do not currently lay out any clear procedures for dealing with complaints of misconduct by a member, or determining appropriate discipline. Bylaw 19 discusses what sorts of discipline may be meted out, but not how to go about determining if discipline is warranted in the first place. To resolve this issue I suggest that an ad hoc committee be struck to develop more thorough procedures for the Society to investigate and address member misconduct, and deliver a report containing their recommendations to the Bylaws and Constitution Committee and the Policy committee for vetting and recommendation to Council. During this process, particular attention should be paid to the importance of maintaining confidentiality through the process ? a principle highlighted in the recent changes to the Society's Conflict of Interest policies ? and to balancing this against the Society's commitments to openness.

³Under the conditions listed in Bylaw 14.5

⁴It is important to note that this does not constitute proof that the NDAs are not out of order, but merely evidence in favour of their not being out of order.

6. Relevant Bylaws

Bylaw 14: Disclosure of Information 14.1 All minutes of Council or the Executive, and, where compiled, of committees shall be available to all interested parties, with the exceptions noted below. 14.4 Confidential minutes may be viewed only by full and associate members of the Society.

Speaker's Ruling

Alternate Councillors for Unassigned Council Seats

Dear Councillors, A member of the Society has asked me the following question: we allow Alternate Councillors to attend meetings when their regular department representative is unavailable. Do the Bylaws allow for an individual to serve as an Alternate for a vacant department seat? My ruling follows.

The Bylaws do not clearly either allow or prohibit this practice. However, it is not practically possible to abstain from a decision on this matter, as an abstention would practically amount to banning the practice. In absence of clear guidance from the bylaws, I must turn to other principles to decide the matter. In particular, the Society and its policies are structured around encouraging participation and representation wherever possible. In light of this, I have determined that prohibiting interested individuals from filling in for a vacant Council seat ? absent a policy explicitly banning it ? runs contrary to the foundational principles of SOGS. As such, it is my ruling that Councillors may serve as Alternate Councillors for a seat that is currently vacant. The typical rules that apply to ordinary Alternate Councillors apply in this case as well (i.e., they must be a member of the department they are alternating into, and must submit an alternate form bearing their name/student number/departmental affiliation at the start of the meeting), and count as present for the purposes of quorum and departmental grants. Finally, as I have stressed, this ruling is not based on an interpretation of any particular bylaw since, as stated above, there is nothing in the bylaws which settles this matter either way, but is rather based on my interpretation of the broader principles which govern the Society. As such, I recommend that the BCC consider this issue and draft a proposed amendment to the Bylaws which will either explicitly allow or prohibit this practice.

Respectfully yours,
Christopher Shirreff

Speaker's Ruling

Removing Absentee Committee Members from Committees

Dear Councillors,

The President our Society has asked me the following questions and asked for a ruling on them:

1. A committee chair wanted to know what to do in the situation where the committee can't meet quorum, and therefore can't vote on the removal of members who have missed two meetings without assigning a proxy, received a warning, and missed a third meeting.
2. A conversation surrounding the issue of committee members who graduate or move away led those present to wonder if the following course of action would be acceptable:
 - 2.1. An email asking the member if they wish to continue on the committee.
 - 2.2. If no response is received, a second email asking if the member wishes to continue, with something to the effect of "no response will be understood as your resignation from the committee."
 - 2.3. Removal of the member from the committee list following their understood resignation.

First Question:

The first question has a straight-forward answer. The bylaws as they currently exist do provide 3 non-mutually exclusive remedies for Committee chairs for dealing with absentee committee members in the absence of quorum being established or possible at the committee level: Bylaw 2.9.3.9, Bylaw 2.7 and expiration of 1 year term on the committee.

An option at the disposal of the committee chair is to recruit new members to the committee to such a number that they can forgo a new quorum and remove the absentee committee members under 2.9.3.9. The speaker interprets the current text of 2.9.3.9 as a simple majority vote once the threshold of absenteeism is achieved.

The other option would be to use the recall provisions under bylaw 2.7. For sake of clarity, the process unfolds as follows:

1. A committee member ⁵ writes to the Speaker with a recall petition⁶ and rational for why a member should be removed from a committee (In this case

⁵most likely the Committee Chair since they are the person most knowledgeable on the attendance record of committee members

⁶For committee members, the petition has no length requirement, and as such is effectively a petition with one name- that of the complainant

⁷Due to timeline requirements in Section 2.7.1.3, the deadline for addressing this in the next council meeting absenteeism without providing a proxy)⁷

2. Within 2 business days of receiving the petition, the Speaker forwards the rational to the committee member facing recall. The member has 3 business days to respond and have that response included as part of the recall motion in the council mailout⁸.
3. The motion is addresses as part of regular business, and as such must be seconded.⁹
4. Assuming the motion is seconded, the complainant and the seconder motivate the motion, and debate follows.
5. The vote is conducted by roll-call.
6. Provided that the motion takes place before elections, the removed member may re-apply to sit on the committee.

Lastly, a rational behind the introduction of 1 year mandates for committee members a few years ago was to create a passive mechanism for removing absentee committee members from committees.

Second Question

The second question is subdivided into 3 parts and this speaker's ruling will deal with the question as such.

Part 1

With regards to the first act, emailing the committee member and asking if they wish to

is the third to last Tuesday of the month.

⁸N.B. The Speaker must under 2.7.1.5. remove any libellous material that goes in the council mail out ⁹While not an explicit requirement, the speaker feels that should the committee member being recalled is not a regular member of council, the Speaker should grant them an invitation to council in order to argue their case.

¹⁰Alternate Councillors for Unassigned Council Seats, November 2014, Speaker Chris Shirreff stay on the committee, the speaker sees nothing wrong with this course of action.

Part 2

With regards to the second the Speaker finds this very problematic, since the end result of this course of action actively assumes that a non-response to a question of continued participation in a committee is equivalent to consenting to resign. Furthermore, as detailed in the first question, there exists alternative mechanisms for removing a member of a committee who commits chronic absenteeism, and does so in a way that does not infringe on their right to consent or not with regards to resigning.

Whilst the Bylaws or Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, 11th Edition (RONR) do not clearly either allow or prohibit this practice, I will continue the precedent of my predecessor in their November 2014¹⁰ ruling of using principles to decide the matter.

When faced with two courses of action in which one infringes on a member's right to consent or to refuse consent, the Speaker must side on the course of action that protects member's rights to consent to a course of action. As such, the Speaker rules that the assumption that non-response is equivalent to consenting to resign is not in keeping with SOGS values, and thus should not be allowed to take place in our Society.

Part 3

This sub-question becomes moot in light of the ruling on previous sub-question.

Martin R. Lefebvre

Prorogation of the 2018-2019 Council Year

Dear Councillors,

A non-zero number of Councillors asked about the proceedings of the September Council meeting, expressing confusion and a request for clarification on business that was conducted and unfinished business due to a loss of quorum. My ruling follow.

Given that October marks the start of the SOGS council year, I am compelled to prorogue the previous session and proclaim a new council session for the October 2019 meeting. My proposal for prorogation is for two reasons:

i) to prevent confusion and to help new (and returning) Councillors at the start of a new council year by presenting a clean/clear agenda for the meeting.

ii) to allow for all presented motions from September Council (included in the package and from the floor) to be resubmitted under Orders of the Day such that motions could be updated, revised, withdrawn, or discussed in consultation with parties affected for language or anticipated execution.

Starting the new council year in a state of tabula rasa provides an opportunity for further review of the motions on the previous agenda before resubmitting. Ideally, this will help clarify proposed motions and streamline debate to the actual change proposed in the motion as opposed to, say, adjusting the language and punctuation from a grammatical perspective.

The conclusion of the previous council session is not an unfamiliar practice. In this context, it also does not prevent previous business from being discussed in the new session. My objective in this ruling is not to erase the motions put forth, but to allow motions to be submitted to the package as a fresh session. Doing so would allow Councillors the opportunity to review motions and associated contents. Ultimately, this decision will hopefully quell any confusion for all council members.

Respectfully yours,

Lola Wong

Speaker's Ruling

Motion ruled out of order at October Council, 2019

Honourable Councillors,

In accordance with bylaw 2.2.2.3., I present this as documentation of my ruling made during Council on October 24, 2019. Rather than regurgitate the event, I refer you to the October 2019 Minutes of the November 2019 Council package for details on the proceedings. This is simply a written summary and reflection on the ruling.

Background:

A point of order was raised at the October 2019 Council meeting concerning a motion submitted by the SOGS Executive requesting Council's approval for funds to be drawn from the SOGS Reserve as additional compensation for their increased workload related to the Student Choice Initiative. The point of order was made by the SOGS Ombudsperson, who was also acting as an alternate for a Councillor from his department. The point raised was that the motion was in conflict with bylaw 2.12.6 and was out of order. A sidebar was called, and the information was presented and discussed in a small group with the SOGS Ombudsperson, acting Deputy Speaker, SOGS President, SOGS VP Finance, and myself. The SOGS Ombudsperson indicated that Bylaw 2.12.6 states that all new spending must be approved/recommended by the Finance Committee. The motion from the Executive specified that the recommendations were from the Finance Co-Chairs. Based on the information presented to me at that time, I ruled the motion out of order. Council proceedings resumed, I announced my ruling and the VP Advocacy challenged the ruling. Numerous questions and points and were raised by the assembly during the debate on the challenge of the ruling, and after deliberation, a motion to call to question was made and passed. The assembly voted in favour of the ruling and the challenge was defeated.

The Motion submitted by the SOGS Executive

Whereas the executives have been working unrealistic hours in light of the Student Choice Initiative (SCI);
Whereas the Executive provided a document outlining the rationale and justification of this request to the Finance Committee Co-chairs and is available in the October Council Package Appendix;
Whereas the Finance Committee Co-chairs have been consulted;
Whereas the Finance Committee Co-chairs support this request;
BIRT Council approves the executive compensation for the increased workload related to the SCI of $3,560 per executive;
BIFRT the compensation be drawn from SOGS Reserve.

The Bylaw cited by the SOGS Ombudsperson

2.12.6. Proposals for amendments to the budget shall be received by the Vice-President Finance and shall be referred to the Finance Committee. The Finance Committee shall present the proposals with the Finance Committee's recommendations to Council within eight weeks of the Vice-President Finance's receipt of the proposals.

The Ruling

The point of order brought attention to the bylaw 2.12.6. states that amendments to the budget shall be referred to the Finance Committee. Subsequently, the Finance Committee is to present the proposals with recommendations to Council. The argument presented was that the bylaw implies budgetary changes —or changes in the budgetary spending— should be recommended to Council by the Finance Committee. The Executive specify consultation with the Co-Chairs in their motion but not with the Finance Committee.

When the ruling was challenged, the question of past precedent was raised. While previous motions or rulings serve as important guides, every situation and context is different and must be examined on its own merits. I made a ruling based on the information presented at that moment and chose what I believed was the right decision. I accept that others will disagree with that and many other of my decisions, but without debate and discourse, collaboration and communication, our Society will not evolve.

The Challenge of the Speaker's Ruling was, in fact, paramount. It was an opportunity for Councillors to choose what they believed was the right decision for that moment. More importantly, it was an excellent demonstration of the power Councillors have as the governing body of SOGS. I will continue to keep things engaging, ensure that everyone is informed, and endeavour to create those opportunities for all of the members of SOGS in future meetings to the best of my ability.

Respectfully yours,
Lola Wong
